Arrangements have been made whereby Hon. J. E. Browlee, premier of Alberta, will address public meetings, along with other speakers, at Coleman and Bellevue on Monday night next.

PINCHER FOLK INJURED IN ACCIDENT AT COAST

Miss Bull, while motoring with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ormond, former residents of Pincher Creek, on the highway near Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, had a nasty motor accident recently. In passing a car Mr. Ormond's car was crowded off the edge of the road into soft earth and brush, overturning the car, which fortunately lodged in the only two trees in the vicinity. This broke the fall, which would otherwise have possibly proved fatal. As it was, Miss Bull sustained a badly bruised arm, Mr. Ormond a broken leg and Mr. Ormond four broken ribs.

Because of Miss Bull's injury, which is receiving medical attention at the coast, her return from her vacation has been postponed until the end of this week.—Pincher Creek Echo.

BELLEVUE FLOWER SHOW WAS A RECORD BREAKER

The display of garden produce, flowers, fancy work and school art at Bellevue on Monday was a revelation and a rare treat to witness. As expected, the number of entries was considerably in excess of the 1425 of last year, and generally the exhibits were superior in quality.

The judges, W. R. Reader and F. Wilson, of Calgary, for flowers and vegetables; Mrs. Reader, of Calgary, for the industrial section, sure had a task, but performed their duties in a very capable and satisfactory manner. All the forenoon was occupied in sizing up the various classes of exhibits.

The list of prize winners will appear in our next week's issue.

The West Canadian Band and Calgary Salvation Army Citadel Band were in attendance during the day, as well as the special Bellevue orchestra, and pleasing selections helped largely to enliven everybody.

A good programme of sports was carried out, the principal feature being a five-mile marathon race in which there were five entries. The five lads were neck and neck over the entire course to Hillcrest and back, until within about two hundred yards of the finishing post, when Young Kerr, of Pasburgh, put up a gallant sprint, winning by but a few feet. James McVey, of Blairmore, came in a very close third.

The quota competition proved very interesting and was keenly contested. Various booths were operated successfully on the grounds.

At night a grand dance was held in the L.O.O.F. hall, which was very attractively decorated for the occasion.

The committee desire to thank all who in any way assisted, especially those who donated special prizes. They also feel very grateful to the Calgary Citadel Band for the splendid programmes rendered by that organization.

The Coleman Journal last week got off the following:

A Calgary seed company had received from a Blairmore Scotchman fifteen applications for free samples of their splendid seeds, and when the sixteenth arrived in the morning mail, the chief of the order department decided it was time he did something. He dictated a letter to the man, which ran thus:

"Dear Sir: I am sending you the seeds requested, but what are you doing with so much? Are you planting the whole of your town with peas?"

A few days later he received the following reply: "No," it ran, "we are not planting them at all. The wife uses them for soup."

COUNCIL PASSES FIRE BY-LAW

The regular fortnightly meeting of the town council was held on Tuesday night, instead of Monday. Mayor Farmer and Councillors Patterson, Hays, Morgan, Sartoris, Ferguson and Gillis were present.

The minutes of previous regular meeting were approved as read and a number of accounts were passed for payment.

A deputation consisting of Messrs. Weir and Sutherland waited upon the council, in behalf of the Village of Frank, and asked for a renewal of lighting agreement. Upon motion the agreement expiring August 22nd last was renewed for six months from that date at the same terms.

Application of E. J. Pozzi to purchase part of a lot adjoining his residence property on Main Street, being lot 14 in block 26, pan 2983-AA, was accepted. Part of this lot has been swept away by Lyon Creek.

C. Sartoris made application for the right to cut ice for storage purposes from the Blairmore swimming pool. His proposition was accepted.

Communication of K. G. Craig in connection with glass claimed to have been broken in the window of S. Trow's store by a stone flying from a pick used by a town employee was ordered filed.

Report from Mr. Fidler, inspector of municipalities, was read to the meeting and filed.

Notice was given that at the next regular meeting of the council, by-laws would be introduced, appointing secretary-treasurer, auditor and chief of police.

Notice was also given that at the next regular meeting of the council a by-law governing procedure of council would be introduced and submitted to a committee of the whole council.

The new Fire By-Law received its third reading and was finally passed. A resolution passed in connection with this by-law made provision for salaries and firemen's fees.

COLEMAN'S SWIMMING POOL OPENED ON LABOR DAY

Coleman's new swimming pool was opened with due pomp and ceremony on the afternoon of Monday, September 6th (Labor Day).

A large gathering of interested citizens and young folks were in attendance. Mayor Burns had the honor of delivering the opening address and superintending the christening ceremony, and the pool was launched to the service of the community under the style of "Coleman Community Swimming Pool."

Coleman is sure to be congratulated upon the success of the efforts of a few citizens, not the least responsible being His Worship Mayor Burns. The pool is built of concrete, the work of J. S. D'Appollonia, and its dimensions are 45 by 185 feet. The total cost of the pool, we understand, is in the neighborhood of four thousand dollars. Some improvements will yet be effected, which will entail some further expenditure.

The swimming pool in Coleman became a reality largely through the instrumentality of the Coleman Lodge of Elks.

Sir Gilbert Parker
And the French-Canadians

Noted Writer and Parliamentarian Talks of Friendship With Sir Wilfrid Laurier

The Right Honourable Sir Gilbert Parker, who at present is making one of his frequent visits to his native land, made his only public appearance on this trip at Muskoka Assembly, the Canadian Chautauque, recently. A large audience gathered from various points on the lakes and listened to a delightful series of personal reminiscences which he gathered under the title, "Forty-one Years After."

His address dealt largely with public men with whom he had been brought into contact. Speaking of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the French-Canadian, he said:

"It is a good thing to have long enough to prove that apart from literature, one loves one's country, is a patriot, and has no fear. I remember a speech I delivered in Toronto well over twenty years ago at my own university. I had just come back from Quebec and I said then, what I repeat now, that while the French-Canadian did not share sympathies with us in our imperial commitments and responsibilities, he was loyal to the soil as any U. E. Loyalist in this U. E. Loyalist district. It must not be forgotten that twice since 1763 the French-Canadian has saved Canada for the British flag. It must not be forgotten that the second most popular prime minister Canada ever had, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was a French-Canadian. Had I lived in Canada I should have been opposed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier politically, but we were close and intimate friends, stayed with him in his house six times, I crossed the continent with him once. And what was the basis of our friendship? He believed that I put the French-Canadian in his true light before the world. I attacked him in 1911 in the British House of Commons, over the reciprocity proposal with the United States. I said I believed he would be driven from power, and that he would never receive the prime ministry again. I said to myself: 'That ends me with Laurier.' It didn't. When he heard I was coming to Canada again, he called me and asked me to stay with him, which I did."

Honor Portuguese Explorer

Compatriots in India Erect Memorial to Vasco da Gama

Portuguese citizens of India have honored the memory of their great compatriot, Vasco da Gama by the erection of an imposing monument in Nova Goa, or Panjim, as it is often called.

Vasco da Gama was born in 1469 and died in 1524, after a stirring and adventurous career. His admirers in India have honored him chiefly because of the fact that it was he who opened up the way to India, thus achieving one of the most important events in the history of civilization, hence all the world can claim a share in his wonderful career.

But the Portuguese of India naturally feel it to be their great hero, and they have expressed their hero worship by erecting a memorial to him.

Witchcraft Is Still Practiced In Europe

But Only Form That Has Survived Is

A witchcraft case in Staffordshire, England recalls the fact that witchcraft still lingers in all parts of Europe. The British penal laws were repealed in 1736, but there have been cases within the last 20 or 40 years, especially in the Highlands, in which there have been reports of witchcraft. It was estimated that between 1484 and 1782 no fewer than 300,000 supposed witches were put to death in Europe, but there have been cases in which "witches" have been bricked much more recently. The usual form of witchcraft to survive is that in connection with the making of a wax image of the person to be bewitched, clay being used instead of wax in the Highlands.

An order for 2,000 sacks of yellow pine cones for seed has been received at Kamloops, B.C., from an Ontario seed house which also wants 500 sacks of Douglas fir cones. Much tree seed has in the past been gathered at the coast, where the Dominion Government has a seed attracting plant at New Westminster, but this is said to be the first order of any size for such seed received in the interior of British Columbia.

Canadian Pacific Express Company

Dominion Express Company New Name Known By That Name After forty-four years of operation during which it has grown up with the country and contributed in no small way to Canadian development, the Dominion Express Company will no longer be known by that name. After September first, the great transportation agency will be known as the Canadian Pacific Express Company. In all parts of Canada and the United States and throughout the civilized world signs on the windows of the many hundreds of branch offices will be changed, and thus will be forged a still closer link with the great parent company whose railroad, steamships and hotels are known around the world.

To mark the change of name the company has issued an attractive little booklet giving a short history of its career and a synopsis of its present widespread activities. The Dominion Express Company was incorporated in 1878, but it was in 1882 that Mr. Van Horne, then president of the C.P.R., took it over as an operating part of the Canadian Pacific Railway. H. G. A. Kirkpatrick, later Sir George Kirkpatrick, Lt.-Gov. of Ontario, was its president, and Mr. W. S. Stout, a young but thoroughly experienced express man became its superintendent. Mr. Stout is today president and has for many years guided its fortunes in that capacity.

For some years he and his assistants had a hard and uphill fight. They not only moved traffic, but helped create it by finding Canadian and foreign markets for Canadian products, and by scientific rate making encouraging the farmer, fruit grower and others whose markets were far away. The growth of the company over these many years is an interesting story and it is an important chapter in the commercial history of this country and its present position where it is daily entrusted with hundreds of millions of dollars in goods and treasures by the public, business institutions and the government is a matter for justifiable pride. The booklet is handsomely illustrated and is being widely distributed wherever the company operates.

Boy Climbs Highest Mountain

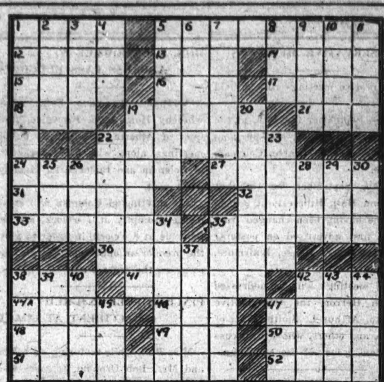

Six-Year-Old Langshire Boy Accomplishes Feat

The youngest to climb Mount Snowfield, the highest mountain in England, is a Langshire boy of six. This feat he accomplished with his grandfather, who is 60 years old, his father and his uncle. On the way up the boy met the Kewick official guide, who was taking a party up to the top of Snowfield Pike. Learning that the youngster was not going to be carried any part of the way, he said that he would give him a shilling if he was at the top by half-past two. The boy was the first of his party to reach the top, arriving there at 1.55.

New Acreage Signed to Wheat Pool

Over Five Hundred Saskatchewan Farmers Join Pool in One Week

A remarkable commentary on the recent anti-pool propaganda is presented in the following new acreage signed to the pool, for the week ending August 24th:

Aug. 15th, 10,222 acres; 20th, 9,400 acres; 21st, 10,097 acres; 22nd, 7,845 acres; 23rd, 7,000 acres; 24th, 10,233 acres.

During the period shown, over 500 Saskatchewan farmers decided to favor "The Pool Way," covering 55,007 acres of wheat.

Approximately 6,000 additional acres of coarse grains also came over to orderly marketing campaign.

Foods Held In Storage

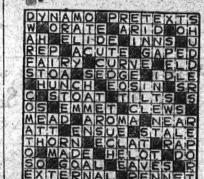

Huge Amount Is Kept On Hand in Canada

It may surprise the average person to learn of the huge amounts of foods it is necessary to hold in storage to meet the normal demands of trade, says the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior. Fresh meats in storage in Canada amount to about three pounds to every man, woman and child in the country; butter and cheese, total about two pounds per capita, while the amount of fish in storage is nearly one and one-third pounds per head.

Rich relatives are of little use to a poor man except to pose as something to which he can point with pride.

The salmon pack of British Columbia for the season of 1925 amounted to nearly 2,000,000 cases.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

GIFTS FOR THE TABERNACLE

Golden Text: Honor Jehovah with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. Proverbs 3:5.

Lesson: Exodus 35:4 to 36:7. Devotional Reading: Psalm 84:1, 2, 8-12.

Explanations and Comments

I. The Call For Contributions For the Sanctuary. Ex. 35:4-26—Moses assembled the people and addressed them, probably from a raised platform. He reminded them that it was God's desire to have a sanctuary where he might meet them and they might offer their worship. He called for voluntary contributions of materials and labor for the sanctuary and its equipment, and for the vestments of the priests. There was one restriction: the givers of gifts must be "willing hearts." The people listened and quietly went back to their tents.

"You might have wondered whether they would return, since so little had been said about their emotions and arouse their enthusiasm. How different this seems to the methods in use today to extract money from reluctant hands."

II. "An Old Subscription List," verses 21-23—This heading is the happy title which Dr. Alexander MacLaren gives to his exposition of this chapter. "Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart," wrote Paul to the Corinthians; "not grudgingly or of necessity, for God loves a cheerful giver." The women on this old subscription list fulfilled that injunction of Paul's. They came a great crowd of willing givers, "every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, laden with gifts needed for the building of God's house and for 'the holy garments,' the garments consecrated for use in the sanctuary."

"The world asks: How much does he give? Christ asks: Why does he give?" (Dr. John R. Mott)

Germany's Population Grows
Germany's population is again increasing. Experts believe that the time is not far when Germany, like Italy must again have colonies to house surplus inhabitants. The death rate of 12 per 1,000 population is about 2 per cent. lower than in 1913 and less than half of the high peak in 1918 when 26 out of every 1,000 died.

Postmarks date back over two centuries. The first provincial specimen being marked "Warrington" on a letter dated 1762, long before postage stamps came into use.

"There!" the woman on the cushions exclaimed: "You are, delightful again, as you always are when you're trapped. Now I shall sip my drink, if I may, while you proceed to your cross examination. Be so! I am careless of my wit, I expose them to the same whiff of defeat."

"Satisfies you, wonderfully," he said regarding her with a deep sense of appreciation. "Some day a master painter will parody the Madonna with you as his model, and give the world a new masterpiece. Your lips are not just right for him, now. Presently I shall drink a toast especially to everything that isn't Madonna-like about you, since I can do that better than paint."

"While I admit to being curious, mind you, only curious. What are you going to do with—or to the girl?"

"Do you think an impulse of last night, born of my own thrill at the riot that was being going on in her mind, must necessarily be so definite as that? With some hidden motive behind it."

He did not at once reply. His thoughts seemed to have wandered off for a moment. When he spoke again his tone had lost all trace of banter. "I do not believe you ever surrendered to an impulse in your life," he said, his words studiously measured. "There can be nothing in common between you and this girl who has no other masquerade than her own natural wildness. She's more likely to be a thorn than a foil. So you have a motive as clearly defined as the pretense you are trying to bring into your eyes."

Yvonne treated him to her silvery laugh and would have interrupted him, but he went on, calmly: "Brandon is obviously playing a game. I am convinced that he knows where her money came from and why, despite his ostentatiousness. And I am convinced, too, that you do not yet deliberately split a web for the girl and play games to the fly. Why?"

france into the winter garden, just in time to see Teddy Dornier, the one who was born a lord but could not make no one to consider the aristocracy seriously, come to a standstill before the slight, girlish figure that stood directly in his path from the reception hall, where he had just turned. Her hair and eyes were like Walker, serene, thorough to the garden. Teddy Dornier kept none of his secrets or his enthusiasms to himself. He brought a new store of both on his daily droppings-in at Yvonne's—her's was, in a measure, a continuously open house, when she was in town.

The newcomer stared into Joanna's face frankly. He fumbled in his pocket and produced his eye glass, which he carefully screwed into his eye. Then he scrutinized her again, utterly oblivious to her equally unabashed stare at him.

"Jove!" young Dornier exclaimed. "What a pretty girl!" Yvonne was in time to hear Joanna's reply: "How in the world did you ever happen?"

CHAPTER XIV.

Across the Threshold

Both Joanna and Lord Teddy were startled by Yvonne's peal of laughter. "Now, Teddy, you know what everybody thinks when you're around," she declared. "You must really make up an answer some time." Turning to Joanna, she informed her: "He's not always so bad-mannered, you know. I fancy you'll get along famously. I'll present him as Lord Dornier, but you must just call him Teddy—it fits him better." To the man, who struck Joanna as something of an overgrown youth, she added: "This is my new portage, one I'm going to be very fond of—Miss Manners. After awhile you'll be calling her Joanna."

Lord Teddy was at one embarrassment and contrition. "Oh, I say!" he fumbled. "I thought it would be someone who—she was having to sing or dance, or do something like that, you know tomorrow night perhaps! Didn't know she was a friend. Sorry, terribly!"

Joanna who had scant ideas of what one does at a meeting with a lord, was the sort of one, scurried desperately for what she would have termed, conceit, the right comeback.

She was disturbed, too, by that apology for supposing her as one who had come to sing, or to dance, or something like that. It implied something she didn't know what, but something about her that was not as it should be. Yvonne shot a frown at Dornier and went to her rescue.

"Run along now, Teddy," she commanded. "There's tea or alcohol, whichever you prefer, in the garden. You know everybody in there. Miss Manners will remember, anyhow, that you were perfectly in earnest despite your ridiculousness."

He wanted to add something to his apology to straighten it out, but Yvonne hustled him off unceremoniously. To Joanna she said:

"He's a dear, is Teddy. He follows me around the world. He says wherever I am, some husband's wife needs consolation and it's his duty to be on hand. And he declares he's perfectly sincere about it."

Moslem Laws Are Strict

New Ones Issued Carry Severe Penalty For Violators.

New commandments have been issued by Ibn Saud, leader of the strict Wahabi sect of Moslems and now master of the big Arab kingdom which includes the holy cities of Mecca and Medina. Attendance at the prayer services on Friday—the Moslem Sabbath—is made compulsory, while violators of the temperance laws are liable to six months' imprisonment. Severe punishment is to be meted out to distillers or vendors of strong drink, a second offense being punishable by deportation. The use of tobacco is also an offense punishable with imprisonment, and anti-religious satirists will be severely dealt with. Public security officials have been given full authority to enforce these regulations.

Not Impressed With New York

English Visitor Says It Is Noisy, Ill-Mannered City.

James Dunn, writer on the London Daily Mail, who is known for his articles on the "seamy side of life" under the pen name of R. E. Corder, has concluded his visit to Chicago and New York city and called for London on the Cunarder Aquitania.

According to the impressions he gave to a reporter before leaving, Mr. Dunn did not appear to have been greatly pleased with New York, especially its police courts and its noises.

"The best side of New York," Mr. Dunn said, "is the outside. The more I saw of the city the better I liked such charming retreats as Mountain Lakes and other similar places in New Jersey and the various nesting nooks of Long Island."

"New York is the only city that screams at one. London hums, Paris coos, Berlin jingles, but New York just yells. O. Henry has written about the voice of the city; but it isn't a voice, it's a vice."

"Not only is New York the noisiest, but it is among the worst mannered of cities. The prevailing idea seems to be that rudeness means efficiency and politeness spells weakness. New York should take lessons from Chicago in manners. In Chicago they may murder you, but they don't grate on you."

"New York, just nerves. That is what New York is suffering from, and everybody is rude to everybody else because everybody's nerves are on edge. I am not surprised. Take your taxicab and automobile. Every one seems to have a street shriek, growl, whistle or hoot, and when you get out of those the fiendish, ear-splitting scream of the fire engines have indeed a city of dreadful din."

Cleopatra Ate Onions

Ancients Were Very Fond of Salads Such as Moderns Enjoy.

British food experts who have been making a special study of the history of salads say the tomato is the single new ingredient modern times have contributed to salad making. The Pharaohs—even the beautiful Cleopatra—ate onions in large quantities in their salads, and used garlic and other high-priced ingredients. Confucius ate cucumbers, and the ancient Chinese used mustard, watercress and nasturtium leaves and flowers in mixing their elaborate salads. Others contained hard-boiled eggs. Ancient Persia also was very fond of salads, and used lettuce and radishes, and in the salad used in modern salad making. Sour wine, not unlike modern vinegar, was used on lettuce by the Persians four thousand years ago.

"Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable household article. Its use is innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast."

Japan Has New Intoxicant

Man Claimed to Be Overcome Viewing Cherry Blossoms.

A new legend has appeared in Japan. In the precincts of a shrine at Kametaki in Japan the other day, a policeman on patrol discovered what he took to be a corpse. He telephoned to the village office for a coffin, which was at once sent, and the body put in it. On the way to the village office, however, the corpse in the coffin revived and began to sing and dance, to the alarm of the bearers. It was later ascertained that he was a young man, aged 23, who had been made intoxicated by viewing the cherry blossoms.

Many Visitors National Park.—In Canadian national park at Waterton Lakes, in the southwestern part of Alberta, has had a total of 11,500 visitors to the end of July, according to official registrations in the park, which shows the increasing interest in this more recently developed Canadian national playground. A million dollar hotel is being erected.

Long Life Records

Some Animals Attain 100 Years But Trees Reach Thousands. Members of the vegetable kingdom easily beat those of the animal kingdom where length of life is concerned.

The life of the great forest trees may vary from 100 to 1,000 or 5,000 years. The cypress, it is said, may live for 250 years, the ivy 450, the chestnut 600, the cedar 800, the oak 1,000 to 1,500, the yew 2,500, and the baobab tree 5,000 years.

A hundred years are attained by some of the longest-lived animals, such as the elephant, the crocodile, and the tortoise. Pike and carp have been known to live from 60 to 150 years; eagles, crows and parrots from 50 to 100 years.

A Shropshire, England, farm laborer, Thomas Parr, is credited with one of the longest lives on record. He is said to have been 152 years old at the time of his death. At 120 years he married a second time, and for many years continued to work on the farm.

Laws For Pedestrians

Punishment For Vienna Citizens Who Violate New Rules.

Under modifications in the municipal laws of Vienna, persons who talk, whistle or sing too loudly in the streets may be fined 20 cents. For repeated offenses jail terms are provided.

If a person is detected reading a newspaper or book while walking along the street, thereby "impeding pedestrian traffic," he may be subjected to a similar fine. Stopping a friend in the middle of a roadway, a carrying of packages of undue sizes and using bad or unseemly language, are among other punishable offenses.

Miller's Worm Powders prove their value. They do not cause any violent disturbances in the stomach, any pain or griping, but do their work quietly and painlessly, so that the destruction of the worms is imperceptible. They are thorough, and from the first dose there is improvement in the condition of the sufferer—a cessation of manifestations of internal trouble.

Little Helps For This Week

Be still, and know that I am God.—Ps. xlv, 10.

Rest not, poor soul, while doubt and

Say, trust and rest.

Can never wrest

The meanness fit to serve the will,

All power is His alone; be still,

And trust, and rest.

"Suffer and be still; and tell no man

thy sorrow; trust in God. His help

Scripture calls keeping silence before

God. To talk much of one's sorrows makes one weak; but to tell one's sor-

makes one strong and calm.—Tholuck.

The Old-Fashioned Grandmother

London Newspaper Finds There Is No Such Person Now.

A one-day's search by a London newspaper for the old-fashioned grandmother who is usually pictured as sitting quietly darning socks by the fireside, has failed completely. The inquirer compiled a list of seven grandmothers, and then set out to find out what they were doing.

No. 1 was in Paris buying frocks.

No. 2 had recently acquired a two-seater automobile and had driven up to the Midlands to see her son's zone.

No. 3 had gone into the country to make a political speech in her son's constituency.

No. 4 had gone to a matinee.

No. 5 was out buying some new valves for the radio set.

No. 6 was out getting her hair shingled.

No. 7 had gone to a tea dance at a big hotel.

The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly at it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. ON ATTENDING

THE POST OFFICE

Go to the post office often. In these fast days it looks careless and behind the times not to be interested in what the mails are bringing. It is a good sight to see people rushing out of the office, men with their dailies and their business letters, women with their delineators, and everybody with a copy of T. Eaton's catalogue. Yes, go often, but do not overdo it. If there are eight mails daily at your office do not call oftener than thirteen times in a day, and if you have several brothers and sisters who go regularly for the same mail, eleven times will do. Always be polite to the postmaster and staff. First ask him if there is anything for you, and if he says so, ask him if there are any letters; then, if any papers or postcards. Then ask him if your Family Herald is not there, and if there isn't some American papers for your mother and a registered letter for your father. If you get a weekly newspaper and it comes on Thursday don't commence asking for it before Tuesday afternoon; but if you only take a monthly paper, every other Saturday is often enough to call for it. If you expect a letter and it does not come, let the postmaster know. Tell him you can't account for it not being there, that it is queer, and do not leave until you make it plain to him that he is to blame. If some night, at a quarter to four, you want to find out if the five o'clock mail is in, tap at the delivery window, and if the postmaster does not come, just tap again, louder, and keep on tapping until he answers and you get your information, which will be in the negative. Then, after he has gone to his work, call him to the window again and ask him how long before it will be in. If your boy gets your mail and goes off to play and loses a letter and drops the paper in the mud do not blame the postmaster, but talk to your boy. When you do not want your children to get your mail forbid them to call for it. If your paper is delayed some day do not think the postmaster kept it to read. He would a great deal rather give you your papers than keep them in the office. Postmasters are generally honorable, and will do what is right. They aim to use you politely, so use them the same. Politeness looks as pretty in a post office as in a parlor, and true man or woman will act in both alike.—Ed.

NAMES OF SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS SHOULD BE PUBLISHED

One of our reader-subscribers, residing in the sister province of British Columbia, writes as follows:

"Your question in last week's paper 'Why successful teachers' and pupils' names should not be published' interests me. Don't know any reason, if the editors will give the space. It's done here, in rural and city papers. This little hamlet sent up five pupils to write for high school entrance and all passed with an average of 68.13% marks. My boy was amongst the number. Their names, together with that of the teacher, were sent to the nearest newspaper for publication."

"In all the schools of the province of British Columbia 46% of the number writing passed. 2097 were from rural districts, of which 1143, or 54% passed. 1631 were from larger centres, and 603, or 36% passed. "How do you account for the success of the rural kiddies as against those in towns and cities? Is it the absence of picture shows and counter attractions, or what?"

STUDY BEING MADE OF REINDER INDUSTRY

Entirely aside from the humanitarian aspect of the matter, all authorities are agreed that the development of the for northern parts of Canada is dependent upon the maintenance of a healthy and vigorous native population. The experience of the Danish authorities in Greenland and the United States government in Alaska has shown that there are important revenue-producing industries to be developed which will also provide the natives with a profitable occupation suited to their conditions and mode of life. In the successful efforts that have been made to meet the change caused by the depletion of wild life, the aim has not been to make the Eskimo into a white man, dependent upon support from without, but by wise direction to enable him to progress as a happier, healthier and more prosperous Eskimo.

In Greenland advancement has been made along diversified lines of industry; in Alaska the chief avenue of progress has been through the introduction of reindeer. As Alaska is contiguous to Yukon and the Mackenzie valley, the government of Canada, through the North West Territories and Yukon branch of the department of the interior, is now investigating the reindeer industry in Alaska, with the object, if possible, of introducing this animal into the northern part of the Mackenzie district, which is the home of a considerable portion of our Canadian Eskimo population. Before embarking on a project of such magnitude it is necessary to ascertain whether the northern part of the Mackenzie district is a suitable range for reindeer and also to secure firsthand information as to the methods of reindeer herding and management which have made the reindeer so successful in Alaska. With these ends in view the department of the interior, with the consent of the United States authorities, has sent two experts to Alaska who will make an investigation of the reindeer situation there in all its aspects and who will then travel on foot through the Arctic coastal region to Aklayik in the Mackenzie River delta and thence easterly to Coronation Gulf and Chesterfield inlet, noting as they proceed the best route for the driving of a herd of reindeer, should the plan be found feasible. In all this northern district they will make a thorough study of the plants of the region to ascertain whether the supply of fodder is sufficient, and also report on all other conditions necessary to the successful raising of reindeer.

ALBERTA CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

The province of Alberta on September 1st celebrated the 21st anniversary of its creation as a province of Canada. Various functions commemorating the event, took place throughout the province, including radio addresses by prominent men, including Dr. A. C. Rutherford, first premier of the province, Hon. Geo. Hoadley, minister of agriculture and present acting premier and others.

During its 21 years, the province has increased in population from less than 200,000 to 540,000. Its area in wheat has grown from 220,000 acres to 6,000,000 acres, and the area in all crops has grown from 616,000 acres to 11,000,000 acres. The estimated value of agricultural products has grown from $30,000,000 to $256,000,000, and the dairy industry alone has grown from very small proportions to the production value of more than $20,000,000 annually. Coal production has grown from less than one million tons the seven millions, and industrial establishments have increased from 97 to over 2000. School enrolment has grown from 25,000 to 145,000, and the number of schools from 400 to over 3000. T. I. phones have increased in number from less than 3000 to over 65,000; and automobiles from the small beginning of 55 to over 62,000.

UNITED MINE WORKERS MAY RE-ORGANIZE

Robert Livett, provisional president of District 13, United Mine Workers of America, headquarters Calgary, accompanied by George W. Lewis, of Indianapolis, congressional representative of the mine workers, have been visiting the coal mining centres of the Crows' Nest Pass for the last few days. In an interview here today, Mr. Livett stated the purpose of his mission was to make a survey of these camps with a view to revival of the field. He said that of late the large number of appeals from individual workers residing in the Crow had prompted him to come and look the situation over. Mr. Livett intimated that a campaign of re-organization of District 13, United Mine Workers of America, might be pursued in the early future if it met with success and a large group of the miners of the Crow supported the move insofar as existing agreements between the respective operating companies and the local organizations were concerned. The international organization would make no attempt to nullify said agreements, but upon expiration thereof would endeavor to negotiate new terms such as were considered more equitable to the interest of the workers—Fennie Free Press.

ALLEGORY

I have been today to Calgary,
And as I climbed that rugged hill
It seemed like the whole of nature
Was held in its radiant thrill.

Says I: "Can this be the Calgary
Where the Son of God he died?
Where he'll with all its thunder
Cried 'Let Him be crucified!'"

'Tis it here where the greatest battle
Of time was ever fought?
Is it here where the nails were driven
Where love's great feat was wrought?

'Tis it here where love's great fountain
Sprang up with mighty roar—
Where multitudes of the ransomed
Have been healed of their festering sores?

'Here where earth's hopes still linger;
Here where His voice says 'Come,
All ye that are heavy laden,
Come with your burdens, come!'"

If this is the hill of Calgary;
If here where the deed was done;
Here I should love to linger
Till the ransomed are gathered home.

For I am one of the ransomed;
Here where the chains fell off;
Here where the voice of the Shepherd
Cried: "Come to the home of the lost!"

O Calgary, blessed Calgary,
The dearest spot on earth,
Where I can find a shelter
When comes my latest breath.

—Robert Evans.

RED ROSE "is good COFFEE"

Farmers Suffer Enormous Loss

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, weeds will cost the farmers of the Province more than thirty million dollars this year, in the decreased yield due to weeds, in the increased cost of harvesting and threshing their grain, in dockage and freight on weeds shipped with the grain to Fort William or Vancouver.

This year when conditions have been so favorable for the growth of grain, they have been equally favorable for the growth of weeds, and sections of Saskatchewan have many square miles of crops grown on some of the richest soil in the Province which have been so yellow with mustard that hardly a blade of wheat could be seen. Wild oats have been worse than this year, now this is steadily widening the area where it is a thorn in the side of the farmer, and stick weed is flourishing like the proverbial green bay tree.

If to a thirty million dollar loss for Saskatchewan alone, the losses for Manitoba and Alberta are added, the total loss for the three Prairie Provinces will be between fifty and sixty million at least, easily constituting the heaviest charge levied on Western agriculture. Half losses have been heavier than usual this year, but they do not begin to approach the losses sustained by farmers through weeds.

For a quarter of a century or more Western farmers have been waging a battle for lower freight rates. They have won notable victories in this regard, not the least of which was the obtaining in the first instance of the Crow's Nest Pass rates on grain and their restoration after they had been abrogated during the war. But the estimated savings to the farmers of the three Prairie Provinces through the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, running as they do into millions of dollars annually, do not equal the losses sustained by the farmers of Saskatchewan alone through weeds.

A reduction in the Customs tariff on agricultural implements and machinery, or on any one of the many articles necessary to the farmer, is hailed with pleasure as a real relief to the agricultural producer. The practical wiping out of the Income Tax so far as farmers are concerned, the reduction of the postage rate from three cents to two, and other legislative enactments reducing the burden of taxation, are rightly regarded as important in assisting to make farming and all industry more profitable. But these savings are small in comparison to the millions of dollars that would be left in the pockets of Western farmers through a vigorous, persistent, successful fight all along the line against noxious weeds.

The whole country gets stirred up in an election campaign where tax reduction policies are an issue. Farmers unite and organize to place candidates in the field pledged to tariff reductions, reduced freight rates, Rural Credits, and other measures calculated to advance their interests and prosperity. But all too many who wage battle for these lesser gains appear quite indifferent to the weed menace and its resultant heavy losses to themselves and the country at large. Many farmers who are enthusiastic, and organize and fight for those things which they can only obtain in co-operation with the other Provinces of Canada, yet display the most astonishing apathy in dealing with a problem which is all their own, and the solution of which rests solely with themselves, working in co-operation with their next door neighbors.

The Saskatchewan Weed Bulletin just issued contains valuable information and guidance for farmers in dealing with their weed problem. It is written in clearly understandable, non-technical language, and every Saskatchewan farmer who has a weed problem on his hands should send to the Department of Agriculture, Regina, for a copy of this Bulletin, while farmers in Manitoba and Alberta should likewise communicate with their Provincial Departments of Agriculture for similar literature.

The Saskatchewan Bulletin states that the greatest source of the weed trouble is found in dirty seed, and it has been proven that quite a large number of farmers who cultivate their soil carefully to destroy weed seeds already existing in the ground, are actually sowing the same weed criminals to the soil through weed seeds contained in their seed grain, thus rendering all their toil and labor for naught, perpetuating the problem, and keeping up the loss.

Co-operation amongst Western farmers is accomplishing great things for them and for Canada, and co-operation is capable of achieving even greater things in the years to come. Possibly in no one way can more be accomplished than by each individual farmer enlisting in the war on weeds, and waging it aggressively in season and out in his own land, and in co-operation with his neighbors and municipal officials throughout the whole district in which he resides.

Unlike other wars, which always end in losses for both victor and vanquished, a successful war on weeds means great gains and larger profits throughout the years to come. The fight!

Scale For Weighing Signatures

Makes Calculation Within Hundredths Part Of A Grain

Among the articles shown at the exhibition of the Incorporated Society of Inspectors of Weights and Measures at the Central Hall, Westminster, England, is a pair of scales capable of weighing a person's signature. The method adopted is simple, the paper being weighed before and after the writing of the signature.

The difference involves a calculation within a hundredth part of a grain. Sometimes the weight of a signature is so infinitesimal that it has to be calculated by means of a mirror and shadowgraph.

There is no average weight for a signature, but in the main everything depends upon the quality of the paper used or the degree of softness of the pencil.

Another factor is the temper of the writer, for a man in a temper writes more heavily than a man in a state of mildness.

England's Oldest Living Barrister

Sir Harry Poland Has Celebrated Ninety-seventh Birthday

Sir Harry Poland, England's oldest living barrister, has celebrated his 97th birthday. He received many congratulatory messages, but was too unwell to be seen by any but a few friends. It is 75 years since Sir Harry was admitted a member of the Inner Temple, being called a few months after the late Lord Halsbury, who died at the age of 92.

Sir Harry became famous largely for his conduct as crown prosecutor of many notorious murder cases. He became known as "the sleuth-hound of the treasury" being a great authority on the licensing laws and the incident of taxation.

Sir Harry remembers the funeral of the Duke of Wellington and the seating of the New Parliament in the top of the column in Trafalgar Square.

The man who tells these stories usually manages to finish them in spite of interruptions.

Stabilization of Rural Land Values

By C. W. Peterson

No public issue has been the victim of more platitudes than that of immigration on platform and in press. In Canada there seems to be no intelligent public opinion on the question, and our economic groups are consequently hopelessly divided on the issue. Added population merely spurs further unemployment to the labor group, and increased competition to the farmer. Hence, we frequently find our great rural organizations unfriendly and even officially antagonistic towards any effort to augment Canada's population.

Public Apathy

An intelligent study of the population question leaves one in no doubt, that lasting agricultural prosperity is not possible without the steady, progressive colonization and development of our extensive vacant spaces by real agricultural settlers. The realization of such a programme would, however, involve a constructive effort of a magnitude no government could safely contemplate today. In view of the apathetic state of average Canadian public opinion on the subject, The superlative confronting Canada at this moment, therefore, would appear to be to convince her own citizens of the wisdom of regarding the population question as the corner stone of all public policies, which, indeed, it is.

Agricultural Unrest

We have for almost a decade been confronted with the demoralizing specter of steadily receding rural land values all through Canada. This was the outcome of a combination of circumstances, but has been chiefly due to the cessation of immigration, coupled with the modern spectacular rise in the cities. Land values today, east and west, are very low, and many farmers have thus seen their chief asset shrink to such an extent that substantial equities have in some instances totally disappeared, representing the loss of the fruits of years of hard labor on the part of every member of the family.

The Agricultural Credit Structure

Land represents the principal borrowing asset of the farmer. Stable land values lie at the foundation of rural credit in practically all its forms. When land values become demoralized, the whole agricultural credit structure is undermined. Credit of all sorts is curtailed and interest rates advanced. In fact, it may be laid down as an economic axiom, that a prosperous agriculture and a contented rural population are not without the possibility of being wrecked and unstable land values. The demoralizing effect in itself upon the farmer of the progressive shrinkage of his chief capital asset is bound to exercise a most unfortunate influence upon his state of mind and actions.

Restoring Agricultural Confidence

There is today a vast area of vacant lands on the market. The prairie section of Canada and improved farms are offered for sale in other provinces comparatively at bargain prices. The demand for such properties slackens properly with the drying up of the stimulating flow of immigration some years ago. The settlement of the province of Ontario dates back as far as that of the Middle West of the United States. Yet land values in the prairie and elsewhere are twice and three times as great as in Eastern Canada. Why? The Canadian farmer should be keenly interested in recreating a normal market for rural properties. A comparatively limited demand for land would quickly be reflected in strengthened values all round and the moral effect would be electrical. Urban business would automatically benefit through such a restoration of agricultural confidence. Our farmers have, therefore, a vital interest in the inauguration of vigorous and comprehensive policies by the various governments and railways designed to promote the actual colonization of vacant agricultural areas.

Statistics Show People Prefer Them to Apples or Peaches

It may surprise many to learn that pears are the most popular of the fruits put up by Canadian canning companies, according to the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior. Latest statistics show that over twice as many cases of pears (300,000) are marketed as compared to apples (135,000) and over three times as many compared to peaches (85,000). Pears and cherries come next in popularity with 60,000 and 50,000 cases respectively.

ALL CANADIAN ROUTE IS NEEDED SAYS SIR HENRY

Montreal.—The construction of an all-Canadian route to a Canadian all-year port was just as imperative to the rest of Canada as to the Maritime Provinces. Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, told the royal commission investigating the position of those provinces in the Canadian Confederation here.

"I think that indisputably," the president told Sir Andrew B. Dun can at another point when the commission chairman told him the Maritime made the point that they should not be called upon to bear the entire burden of the route. "It was just a matter of deciding how the burden should be borne, said Sir Henry. Sir Henry said he realized there was dissatisfaction and even discontent in the Maritimes, and he had devoted much anxious thought to the problem.

"If we admit, and I have felt, for a long time, that it is in the interests of the Maritimes and the Dominion as a whole, that something must be done, and done speedily, to assist the Maritimes to share in the growing prosperity of the Dominion, then the problem is to find the means," the president pursued.

Sir Henry suggested two alternatives for meeting Maritime problems, both of which he felt were open to objections. The first was reduced rates, and he explained how this would affect the rate structure of the entire country and probably of the whole North American continent. The other alternative was for the government to grant a subsidy, but if the principles of a free lunch counter were established everyone would want to come to it. One suggestion which had some advantages and no disadvantages, he said, was that there should be established between the railway management and Maritime industries a closer contact than existed at present.

"What about Walk Street," called out someone who looked in through a window of the rail building for a moment.

"Isn't that a fine example of Tory tactics?" asked Mr. King.

"This fly-by-night shows his head in a window, about to run away," Mr. King proceeded to say that the country as a whole prospered from the removal of considerable taxation this year.

The Liberal leader has concluded his campaign in Nova Scotia at Port Hawkesbury, on Cape Breton Island, a terrific downpour drove the crowd to the town hall. Here in Antigonish-Guysboro constituency the crowd filled the curling rink at the meeting. Mr. King will hold two meetings on Prince Edward Island and he will start west again, stopping at Campbellton in New Brunswick and New Carlisle in Quebec.

The final week of the campaign will be spent in Ontario.

France Near Breaking Point With Russia

Trouble Arose Over Soviet's Action Regarding Moscow Fair

Paris.—A controversy which may result in France breaking off relations with the Soviet Union is going on between Premier Raymond Poincaré and commissaire d'Etat "Hervé" and is becoming more embittered daily. The trouble arose when the red placarded Paris with posters announcing a gigantic international fair in Moscow the last of March, urging the French to send their exhibits to be represented.

A number of concerns here leased stalls and show grounds through the commercial attaché's bureau of the Soviet embassy, prepared the products for shipment to Russia to show at the fair and arranged their personnel to proceed to Moscow to take charge of the exhibits and take orders for the wares.

The Soviet Government then refused to grant passport visas or import licenses to the exhibitors, who were unable to participate. When the firms asked for reimbursement of the money paid in advance, the Soviets refused.

Vancouver Showing Rapid Development

Owes Much to Prairies Says President of C.P.R.

Vancouver, B.C.—"British Columbia is more than realizing the progress prophesied for it during recent years, and Vancouver especially is developing rapidly. One of the contributing causes to the development is undoubtedly the improved conditions on the prairies during the past three years, and where this year, a better than average crop is practically assured."

These were the statements made by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on his annual tour of inspection of the company's lines.

"No final estimate with regard to prairie crop have been made by the company as yet," continued Mr. Beatty, "but if weather conditions remain satisfactory for the next few weeks, I would be surprised if the total yield were less than 375,000,000 bushels."

Thousands Take Part in Diamond Rush

Population in Transvaal District Increased Overnight by Fifty Thousand

Johannesburg.—South Africa's latest diamond rush brought 15,000 persons, including 120 women in full running kit or bathing costumes, to a farm in the Transvaal district. Prospectors in one of the fields have already found diamonds worth $180,000.

Among the sprinters were several runners with good track records. One syndicate employed 30 university athletes as runners.

More than 25,000 claims were pegged out and the population of the district was increased from a few hundred to about 50,000 almost overnight.

Sir Henry Thornton To Wed Montreal.—Sir Henry Worth Thornton, K.B.E., president and general manager of the Canadian National Railway, will be married in September to Miss Martha Watson, of New York. This was stated here by Sir Henry in confirmation of a report to that effect.

To Analyze Minerals Of Saskatchewan

No Gold Found in Hart's Says Mining Engineer

Regina.—Completing a survey of the Lac la Poudre mineral area in Northern Saskatchewan, W. H. Hastings, mining engineer of the Saskatchewan bureau of labor and industries, has returned with several hundred pounds of samples for analysis.

Some of the minerals are: Pyrite, magnetite, copper sulphide, glass sand, fire clay, iron sand, coal and pyrrhotite. Several copper claims have been staked in the Sturgeon-Welch Rivers district.

Lack of transportation, said Mr. Hastings, was one of the chief problems in the opening up of the northern resources. Another was the failure to find silver or gold, the most valuable of the minerals, and prospectors fought shy of less valuable claims.

Contest in Prince, Albert

Hon. Mackenzie King Will Be Opposed

Prince Albert, Sask.—Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, leader of the Liberal party, will be opposed by J. E. Diefenbaker, Conservative, unopposed candidate in the election of 1925.

In a three-cornered contest last October, Mr. Diefenbaker was opposed by Charles MacDonald, the successful Liberal candidate and Andrew Knox, Progressive. The vote was MacDonald, 5,301; Diefenbaker, 2,412; Knox, 523.

Mr. MacDonald later resigned to make way for Mr. King, then premier, and J. E. Diefenbaker, then premier, and the Liberal leader defeated Captain D. L. Burgess, Independent, by a large majority. The vote was: Mr. King, 7,529; Capt. Burgess, 2,229.

HALIFAX MAY BECOME A GRAIN SHIPPING PORT

Montreal.—Halifax may become a grain port, shipping some five or six million bushels of grain per season, if three loading berths are provided for the present elevator instead of the one berth there now. This was held out as a definite probability by representatives of the Canadian Wheat Pool at the royal commission investigating Maritime Provinces' matters.

The port, as provided for now, however, was presented in very dark colors so far as grain was concerned, it had not sufficient berth accommodation, steamer space was lacking, the experience of the pool in shipping some million bushels through there in the past year had not been favorable, and it was not known as a grain port.

D. L. Smith, general sales manager, and Albert Claire, traffic representative in Montreal, were the witnesses appearing for the Wheat Pool and they were subjected to close examination by the commission chairman, Sir Andrew B. Dun can.

Five or six million bushels was given by Mr. Smith as the probable limit for the present to which Halifax could be used owing to the lack of ladders making their terminals there. Some 70 per cent of the pool's wheat went liner space, this type of accommodation being especially good because of the small log buying done in Europe.

Bride Ship Brings Beauties

The "Bride Ship Metanaga" continues her successful career of ferrying Scottish brides across the Atlantic to Canada and U.S.A. Here is a happy group which sailed from Glasgow to Canada on the Canadian Pacific liner Metanaga. Each bride was presented with a bouquet kindly sent by Sir Malcolm Campbell. Included in this group are: Miss M. J. R. Campbell, Edinburgh, to marry Mr. H. Peterson, Detroit, U.S.A.; Miss J. Beaton, Pais-

NO CHANGE IN U.S. DEBT POLICY SAYS COOLIDGE

Paul Smith, N.Y.—President Coolidge knows of no reason for making any change in the government policy toward the foreign war-time debts owed the United States.

All the great powers, with one exception, it was added, had funded their debts to the United States and it is apparent to Mr. Coolidge that France will adjust its debts in accordance with the agreement reached by its duly authorized representatives with United States officials.

The president, it was said, respects the sincerity, judgment and patriotism of Mr. Baker, yet he realizes it is sometimes easier for a person in private life who is no longer charged with the responsibility of administering public affairs, to suggest large expenditures of the taxpayers' money or payment of it out of the taxpayers' pockets.

Hail Insurance Rate Increased

Directors Municipal Association Decide On Extra Levy

Regina.—An extra levy of 14 cents per seeded acre in addition to the usual flat rate of 4 cents an acre on all land under the municipal hail insurance scheme was decided on by the directors of the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association at a recent meeting.

The heavy losses of the season so far, which to date amount to $1,265,000, were given as the reason for the additional levy. There is still a few days to run before the liability of the association ceases and to meet this a further $400,000 was provided. Thus a total of $1,265,000 is to be collected from the farmers in municipalities subscribing to the scheme.

Of the individual municipalities to the association, the one suffering the heaviest loss was Marquis with a total of $10,000.

Less Crime in Britain

Present Respect For Law in England Never Exceeded

Quebec.—Quebec welcomed to Canada Right Hon. Lord Darling, who has come on the invitation of the Canadian Bar Association, to address that organization during its annual convention, which will be held at St. John N.B.

Asked if crime was on the increase or showed a tendency towards decreasing as compared with a few years ago, Lord Darling said he thought that as a whole the English people's respect for the laws of the land had never been as great as it was at present.

Amunition Seized in Mexico

Nogales, Ariz.—Twenty-five thousand rounds of ammunition have been seized by Mexican customs authorities in Nogales, Sonora, Mexico; across the border line from here. The ammunition was found in a touring car, driven by a man named Korocho, who is being held for a preliminary hearing.

Many Perish in Shipwreck

London.—One hundred and sixty passengers perished in the sinking of the steamer Burevestnik, says a Reuters dispatch from Riga, Latvia, quoting official advices from Leningrad.

Says Conservative Star Rising

Premier Meighen Addresses Large Gathering in Montreal

Montreal.—Six to seven thousand people were assembled in the Forum when Premier Meighen addressed a meeting here. On the platform were distinguished leaders from every part of Canada. Sir Alfred Mond, member of Great Britain's cabinet under Lloyd George, was there with Lady Mond.

Premier Meighen received a great ovation. Different groups in the hall gave him their songs and cheers. He began in French. His voice was hoarse at first, but steadied after a few minutes. He expressed confidence in the success of his party in the coming elections.

"The Conservative star is rising from the Atlantic to the Pacific," he said. Mr. Meighen spoke for about fifteen minutes in French.

Relapsing into English he said he must review within the compass of a single hour, problems which presented themselves for solution.

Mr. Meighen took up all topics he described as "the most vital of all the topics of the tariff."

His fiscal policy, he said, was not different tonight from what it had always been.

"A stable tariff on a definite basis," was the policy of the Conservative party, he said, and having established a tariff he would leave it there and give Canada a chance to grow.

"There will be no bargain," made at the expense of the fundamental interests of Canada for the purpose of votes in the House of Commons," he added.

Moving Western Crop

Grain Movement From the West Is New Under Way

Winnipeg.—The task of moving the annual grain crop from Western Canada has begun. The grain movement report of the car service department of the C.N.R. for August 30 shows 436 cars, loaded with 560,000 bushels, which is almost double that of the last report. August 28. Grain, marketed totals 648,000 bushels and an increase of 278,000 bushels in storage at country elevators is also noted. The total now in storage in such elevators on the lines of the system amounts to 2,191,000.

On the lines of the system in the making place in Manitoba where shipping is well advanced, but the report also specifies a shipment of new grain from mileage 181.9 on the Oren sub-division of the Alberta district for Port Arthur and a similar shipment from the same point to Vancouver.

ONE CANDIDATE IS ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

Ottawa.—The election of U. P. Beaumont, Liberal-Progressive candidate in Provencher, Man., featured nominations in the 27 constituencies requiring additional time for voting arrangements. The election of Mr. Beaumont was due to the inability of representatives of his Conservative opponent, Dr. D. H. McPadden, to fill their candidate's papers before nominations closed as a result of muddy roads. Mr. Beaumont was elected as Progressive candidate last fall by a majority of 110.

Twenty-three straight party contests and three three-cornered fights will be held for the remaining 26 ridings. In Quebec, Saskatchewan and Yukon Territory straight party fights will be waged for all the seats. Three-cornered fights will be waged in Port Arthur-Thunder Bay, Peace River, Alta., and Edmonton, Man. Fifty-seven candidates in all were nominated. These include 25 Conservatives, 17 straight Liberals, 3 Liberal-Progressives, 1 Liberal-Labor, 1 Liberal-Labor-Progressive, 1 Liberal-Progressive-Labor, 1 Progressive, 3 U.P.A., 4 Labor and 1 Independent.

No Monopoly Of Union Jack

Hon. J. H. Thomas Speaks at Luncheon in Toronto

Toronto.—Saying that with a general election pending and that for that reason he would refrain from discussing politics and thus disappoint the press, Hon. J. H. Thomas, who was colonial secretary in the Macdonald-Laurier government, delivered an address at the exhibition directors' luncheon here.

"No greater mistake was ever made," he said, "than to assume that the Union Jack, which has stood for democracy, for justice and for the most democratic constitution, is the monopoly of any class or creed."

EARTHQUAKE AT HORTA TAKES A HEAVY TOLL

Horta, Faial, Azores.—The dead number 25 and the injured not less than 400 in the town of Horta, where the great earthquake wrecked many buildings and drove the inhabitants in all directions, seeking a place of safety.

Other towns throughout the Azores were rocked, but Horta suffered more severely than any of them.

The frightened population have been living out of doors and rain is adding to their misery. Few habitable houses are left standing.

Martial law has been proclaimed and the civil and military authorities are working hand in hand to alleviate suffering.

Special attention is being given the women and children, for whom emergency shelters are being put up in Horta and other towns. Those shelters have been built of anything at hand, bathing-houses, packing boxes and rolls of sheet iron.

The "hittered" streets are crowded with women and children wandering about too frightened even to take refuge in the shelters provided, report.

The Church of the Conception is a mass of ruins, having been struck by the first shock. While many of the dwellings in Horta are still standing, most of them are not habitable because of wreckage of the interiors and weakened walls, which caused the officials to caution all not to re-enter their homes without precaution.

Many streets are blocked with fallen walls and upturned pavements which add to the difficulty of communication with the suburbs, which are also suffering.

Persons aboard the steamers in the harbor when the quake occurred say they experienced a thumping sensation as if their vessels had struck on rocks.

British House Adjourns

Adjournment For Meeting Earlier Than Expected

London.—A government motion that, when the House of Commons adjourned Aug. 31, it rise until November 9, was adopted by the house by a vote of 325 to 100.

James Macdonald, Labor leader, moved to amend by substituting the date September 17. In view of meetings of the miners' delegate congress, after which he said the government might be able to get the two sides together. Winston Churchill replied the government was perfectly free to summon parliament at any time conditions warranted. The emergency regulations in view of the coal strike were continued for another month at last night's session.

Britain May Oppose Mineowners

London.—Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in an unusually temperate speech intimated, when the House of Commons adjourned, that the government might support a national settlement of the coal strike, even against the wishes of the mineowners, if the workers would be reasonable on the question of wages and hours.

German Immigrants Top U. S. List

Harvesters From B.C.

By this plan the school's population will be crammed into twelve rooms, so that the position of Mrs. Fleming will not likely be necessary.
